Cuba Raiders Face Trouble

The United States announces that it will boldly prosecute Cuban refugees who raid Havana with small gunboats.

This figures. It was the U.S. State Department that rounded up 1,182 Cuban refugee youths and, with the assistance of the President's office and the Central Intelligence Agency delivered them to Fidel Castro at the Bay of Pigs. And it is this same group who advised the public to contribute the $64 million to pay Castro as ransom.

These things do not simply happen. Can you remember the U.S. radio, press and TV, bolstered by the professional politicians, assuring us that Castro was a democrat and the George Washington of Cuba? It was this same news monopoly that assured us that Mao Tse-tung was an agrarian reformer and that Chiang was corrupt.
